Hancock County is home to beautiful arts galleries, historic performing arts centers, restaurants that feature live music, and vibrant events such as Second Fridays, the Will Vawter Juried Art Exhibition, Riley Festival, ChalkFest, and the Pennsy Trail Art Fair. The Hancock County Arts and Cultural Council (HCACC) encourages the growth of local artists and plays a vital role in the county's flourishing arts environment.

HCACC was organized in 1999 with a vision that began in partnership with the Greenfield Parks Department to develop the arts community in Hancock County. Today, HCACC is a 501(c)(3) organization that continues to serve as a catalyst to foster and promote the visual and performing arts and other cultural activities in our community. HCACC also operates the 20 North Gallery in downtown Greenfield that features rotating exhibits of local artists in varied media.

This year, HCACC is compiling its first-ever coloring book of Hancock County images produced by Hancock County artists. This will help raise funds to continue our work, showcase the work of local artists, and provide the community with a unique product.

We invite you to support our efforts by advertising in the coloring book. Coloring book will be 8.5" x 11" in size. This is a wonderful opportunity to showcase your products and services to members of our community and support the arts.

Thank you for your support!
